

PREAMBLE

This contract is about the sale of energy to you as a small business customer or residential customer. It is a market retail contract which sets out the terms and conditions for the sale and supply of energy to your premises. In addition to applicable energy laws and other consumer laws this contract also contains rules about the sale of energy and we will comply with these rules in our dealings with you.

This contract does not cover the physical connection of your premises to the distribution network, including metering equipment and the maintenance of that connection.

1. THE PARTIES

This contract is between:

Blue NRG Pty Ltd (ACN 151 014 658), who sells energy to you at your premises (referred to in this contract as “we”, “our” or “us”); and

You, the customer to whom this contract applies (referred to in this contract as “you” or “your”).

2. DEFINITIONS AND INTERPRETATION

Terms used in this contract have the same meanings as they have in applicable energy laws. For ease of reference, a simplified explanation of some terms is given at the end of this contract.

3. YOUR OBLIGATIONS TO US

- a) To provide true, accurate, and honest information that we reasonably require to execute our duties under this contract and under applicable energy laws.
- b) To notify us immediately if your details change. This includes changes to your name or business name, address, contact details or other details which a reasonable person could consider relevant.

4. COMMENCEMENT DATE AND TERM

4.1 Formation of contract

- a) This contract is formed on the date you accept our offer to sell energy to you, provided that this is done within any timeframes for acceptance that we have communicated to you.
- b) However, the supply of energy under this contract will not commence until the supply start date (see clause 4.3).
- c) By entering into this contract, you acknowledge that we may end an agreement with your previous energy retailer for the sale of energy at your premises.

4.2 Cooling off period

You can cancel this contract within 10 business days of the later of the date you:

- a) enter into the contract; and
- b) receive the welcome pack,

by contacting us and notifying us that you wish to cancel the contract. You can do this orally or in writing (either by email, fax or letter).

If our sales agent has failed to comply with relevant provisions of the Australian Consumer Law (ACL), you may be entitled to a longer cooling off period in accordance with section 82 of the ACL.

4.3 Supply start date

- a) Supply of energy under this contract will commence on the supply start date, which is the later of the proposed supply start date (if any) and:
 - (i) if you are transferring your premises to us from another retailer, the date on which we become the financially responsible market participant under applicable energy laws for the premises; or
 - (ii) if you are an existing customer of ours for the premises, the date on which the last of the preconditions to supply under clause 4.4 is satisfied (or waived by us) in relation to the premises; or
 - (iii) if the premises have not previously been connected, the later of:
 - (A) the date on which the last of any preconditions to supply is satisfied (or waived by us) in relation to the premises; and
 - (B) the date on which we become the financially responsible market participant under applicable energy laws for the premises.
- (b) If you are not an existing customer of ours at your premises, we will use reasonable endeavours to ensure that we are the financially responsible market participant under applicable energy laws for your premises on or as soon as practicable after the proposed supply start date (provided any preconditions to supply are satisfied by you or waived by us).
- (c) For the purposes of clause 4.3(b), we intend to facilitate the transfer of your premises to us as at your next scheduled meter read. However, you may request a special meter read to enable an earlier transfer, and if you do you agree to pay the associated costs.
- (d) We are not liable for any delays in effecting the transfer or any early termination fees, special meter read fees or other amounts you must pay the retailer from whom you are transferring.

4.4 Preconditions to supply

- a) The preconditions to the sale of energy to your premises under this contract are:
 - I. the cooling off period has expired;

 - V. you have provided us with any refundable advance or security deposit required by us under clause 8.
- b) If the supply start date occurs before all the preconditions to supply are satisfied, we may still require those conditions to be satisfied after the supply start date. Any waiver of the preconditions by us:
 - i. will be taken to be only a waiver of our rights to have those preconditions satisfied before the supply start date; and
 - ii. will not be taken to be a waiver of our rights to have those preconditions satisfied at all,
 - iii. unless we expressly state otherwise.

4.5 Supply period

- a) If the contract has a supply period, this is the period (starting on the supply start date) during which we are obliged to sell you energy under this contract.
- b) The end of the supply period does not, of itself, automatically end the contract. There may be a new supply period (see clause 4.7), and you still be liable to pay for energy taken after that period (see clause 4.8).

4.6 Expiration of supply period

- a) We will contact you at least 20 business days prior to (but not more than 40 business days before) the end of the supply period to remind you that the supply period is due to expire and to advise you of your options (notice).
- b) The notice may contain the following information:
 - I. the date on which the supply period will end;
 - II. the terms and conditions (including the charges) that will apply after the supply period.

4.7 Offer of new supply period

- a) The notice may include an offer to amend this contract (offer) by:

- I. extending it to include a new supply period, to apply immediately following the date on which the supply period will end; and
 - II. specifying the terms and conditions (including the charges) that will apply to the new supply period.

 - b) If, within the period set out in the notice, you do not notify us that you reject the offer, you agree that you are taken to have accepted the offer, and this contract will be amended to include the new supply period in accordance with the offer.

4.8 Supply after the supply period

We will apply our standing offer pricing to any supply of energy to your premises between the date on which the supply period ends (if it is not immediately followed by another supply period) and the date this contract ends, to ensure continuity of energy supply to your premises.

4.9 Termination

- a) In addition to your right to end the contract during the cooling off period under clause 4.2, you may notify us at any time after that period that you wish to end the contract. You must give us at least 5 business days' notice of your intention to do so.
- b) If you give us such notice, this contract will end:
 - I. if we both agree to a date to end the contract — on the date that is agreed; or
 - II. if you start to buy energy for the premises from us or a different retailer under another contract — on the date the other contract starts; or
 - III. if a different customer starts to buy energy for the premises — on the date that customer's contract starts; or

- c) Rights and obligations accrued before the end of this contract continue, including any obligations to make payments to us.

4.10 Vacation of premises

- a) If you are vacating your premises, you must provide us with notice of the date of vacation, and provide us with a forwarding address for your final bill. You will be liable for any energy consumed at your premises until the later of:
 - I. the date we have conducted a final meter reading; and

- II. the date on which you (or a person permitted by you) cease taking energy at the premises (which, if the premises are disconnected following the final meter read, will not be taken to be later than the date of disconnection).
- b) You acknowledge that you are liable for charges associated with final meter readings and disconnection. The reading of the meter upon vacation of your premises may incur a special meter read fee.
- c) If you vacate the premises, we may arrange for the supply of energy to be disconnected and may pass on to you any disconnection charges incurred by us.
- d) You may ask us to transfer the contract from your existing premises to new premises in the same State or Territory. Upon receipt of such request we may offer to incorporate the new premises into the contract in substitution for the existing premises.
